

USCC hosts Ukrainian egg decorating, concert for Easter at Union Sq. Park

In celebration of Easter, the Union Square Community Coalition hosted two free events for families at the park's north Pavilion, a concert featuring the Renaissance Street Singers on March 20 and a Ukrainian egg decorating workshop on March 26.

Far from being typical pastel painted eggs, for this workshop, eggs were dyed with, starting with the lightest color and then adding progressively darker colors, usually ending with black. A stylus and hot beeswax were used to cover the color beneath. Whatever was covered with beeswax remained that color and was protected from the next dye. At the end the beeswax was removed revealing the many layers of color.

Photos by Geoffrey Croft

